

IT, IT Security & IT Strategy Advisory

In our technology driven globalized world every organization is an IT organization

The recent pandemic situation showed the importance of an increased need for digitized processes, both in business and IT.

This year is the first when Cyber incidents ranks as the top peril for companies globally*. Security is everybody's responsibility.

After processes are digitized and secured, the road of digital transformation is open for everybody. We help to pave this road with success.

About us

Invendor Advisory Services Ltd. is a consulting house providing end-to-end financial technologies related strategic advisory services, IT & IT security consultancy, corresponding sell- and buy-side M&A advisory and scouting services for corporate and startup clients. We are in business since 2002 and owned by Invendor Holding, a family holding company based in Budapest.

Invendor has been actively shaping the startup and fintech communities of the region in the last decade. Be it a bank, a large corporation or a startup, we provide end-to-end, one stop shop solutions that create value to our clients. Once we have the strategy in place, we select the best fitting means to support the execution of organic growth, digitalization, cyber security, investment or M&A driven business transformation or internationalization projects.
